

Application to the Youth Ambassador Programme

1. Conditions of participation

Youth Ambassador Programme 2027-2028

Swiss participants

1.1. Requirements

Age: 18-30 years old at the beginning of the programme (year of birth between 1996 to 2008)

Active within a social engagement structure (as participant, employee or otherwise): youth movement, religious institution, non-formal education organisation, youth sports/music club, NGO, etc.

English skills: capacity to understand and speak English

Length of the programme: from January 2027 until May 2028.

1.2. General expectations

In short: cultural openness, willingness to step out of the comfort zone, willingness to listen, consider and understand other opinions, values and points of view.

The Youth Ambassador Programme brings together young people all coming from different backgrounds. It is open to people from different religions, worldviews, and cultural values. This means that the participants may be exposed to opinions that drastically challenge their own values. The goal, however, is not to change the values and beliefs of the participants but to improve their intercultural competences through exchange. Through the programme, we encourage acceptance, empathy and openness to other worldviews while developing the necessary skills for understanding that collaboration can transcend cultural, religious and opinion-related boundaries. Therefore, if the potential participant is open for such a process and open to discuss world issues with an open mind, they are perfect for this programme.

1.3. Goals and Activities

This is an international educational exchange programme. The main goal is to promote the intercultural and transcultural competences of young adults. They gain insights into different contexts, reflect and exchange views on social, political, economic and religious aspects from different perspectives.

They improve their skills in intercultural, transcultural, and interreligious communication and gain insights into project work. This empowers them to act as agents of change in pluralistic societies and to advocate for peaceful coexistence. They develop a sense of diversity, learn to navigate unfamiliar contexts with ease, and become aware of the pluralism within their own society and culture.

International exchange strengthens the global network of young adults who serve as youth ambassadors for peace, justice, and environmental protection.

The programme encompasses:

- About 10 educational workshops on intercultural and transcultural competences. These are completed through self-study and combined with online discussions. Approximately 20h will be needed for online calls, individual self-study, general participation, preparation visits/trips, reflection reports.
- 2 days of physical preparation (for Swiss participants)
A Saturday in mid-May and a Saturday in mid-November 2027, in Basel.
- Summer 2027: The international participants will come to Switzerland for two weeks. All participants will take part in this activity and get the opportunity to exchange face to face. The visit to Switzerland will take place over a two-week period between July 5 and July 25. The exact dates will be announced at a later time.
- Winter 2028: 2 weeks for a trip abroad to visit a partner organisation of Mission 21 and gain more intercultural skills (expected to be for Swiss participants only). The exact dates are not yet determined: to be discussed with the Swiss participants.

In general, the programme can easily be combined with work and studies. If there are any doubts, the project leader, Carole Thalmann, can be contacted.

1.4. General conditions on absences

The workshops usually consist of an online course which should be done individually (if not otherwise mentioned) and an online call, in which we meet and discuss with all the participants. In case of an absence at the online calls, it is expected that the participants notify the project leader in advance.

Process: If the absence is due to a foreseeable reason (work, medical appointment, etc), please contact the project leader as soon as you know about your impediment, so that an arrangement can be made. If the absence is due to an unforeseeable cause (illness, etc), please contact the project leader even if it is after the scheduled call or meeting.

- 2 online calls per half year may be missed.
- 1 online course may be skipped. Otherwise, even if the participant cannot attend a call, they should do the online course.

The following online courses and calls online are mandatory for everyone:

- All courses titled «Intercultural and transcultural competences»
- All preparation days for the two trips: one before and one after each trip.
- All reports must be written and handed in.
- Concluding call in the first quarter of 2028.

If more than 2 absences per half year occur, the project leader will contact the participant to discuss the situation and a potential compensation task. In the case of a fourth absence, exclusion from the programme will be considered.

1.5. Costs

At the moment, the fundraising process for this project is ongoing. The goal is that all participation costs (including the trips and accommodation costs) can be covered for everyone. More information will be communicated at a later date. In the past round of the programme, the Swiss participants were asked to contribute to the costs (flights, accommodations, food, etc.) with 800CHF (500 for logistical costs and 300CHF as a solidarity contribution for participants with low income). It may happen that a similar amount will be asked again. If this would mean a significant hurdle to a potential participant, the cost may be discussed. Again, for now the fundraising efforts are set to try and find coverage for all costs.

1.6. Application process

Fill in the application form and send all the necessary documents listed in the application form. Without all the documents, your application cannot be considered.

Send the following documents for your application to this address:

young@mission-21.org
